As El starts to walk away after that REALLY awkward talk about Christmas and presents, Mike feels as if these three words are about to burst out of him. Mustering all the courage he can, he turns around to see El almost at the door.

"El!" He calls "I... I love you, I have loved you since the day we met." "I know we are still broken up, but every time you walk into the room, everything seems brighter, every time I see your face, my day gets so much better. I..."

Mike was cut off by El's lips on his. It was a slow, meaningful kiss, that Mike did not want to end. But when El broke it, he just looked into her sweet honey eyes. It seemed like he was in a trance until he heard the words that almost made his heart stop.

"I love you too."

Four simple words, four words that made Mike want to kiss her again so badly.

So he did, the moment was perfect. That is until Dustin walked in. "Ewww, do you have to do that ALLLLL the time?" He said as he walked away.

Mike and El just looked at each other and laughed. Then Mike pulled El into a hug. She felt safe in his arms, as if all of her worries were just melting away, and for the first time in 3 months. She felt truly happy.
